The Morehead City Family Boating and In-Water Boat Show will take place in downtown Morehead City, NC on May 15, 16, & 17, 2009. Morehead City, North Carolina is on the central coast half way between Virginia and South Carolina or between Maine and the Florida Keys. The area hosts 65 marinas, 24 boat builders, and more than 300 hundred marine-related businesses.

The downtown waterfront is one of only two designated urban waterfronts in North Carolina, and serves as an urban center for shopping, dining, fishing, diving, the arts and entertainment. Its location on the Intracoastal Waterway with a deep water channel and a state port makes Morehead City an ideal way point for voyagers.

The waterfront provides ready access to more than 100 businesses involved with tourism and fishing, including fine restaurants, franchised dealers and independent accessory shops, repair facilities, charter fishing boats, tour excursion boats, and kayak rentals tours for over 250 mapped miles of kayak trails in the area. Sugarloaf Island, a 47-acre nature preserve is directly across from the waterfront and accessible by ferry.
